THE DUKE GWIN CANARD.—Late advices from Havana are more positive that Dr. Gwin was in that city on the 4th instant, returning to Europe from Mexico, where he had totally failed in his scheme with Maximilian, whatever it may have been. We have no definite denial of the specific statement that Maximilian had ceded some portion of several adjacent states of Mexico to France as security for the war debt; but if the story of Gwin's appointment as Viceroy is erroneous, it seems probable that the announcement of such cession was at least premature. The story has been very generally accepted here as true, for it seemed very probable, and quite in keeping with the policy of the Emperor of France. Its promulgation, even although totally without foundation, has at least served the good purpose of eliciting a very general discussion of the entire question of our relations to Mexico, and has afforded Louis Napoleon opportunity to see and understand how decidedly hostile American sentiment is to any dismemberment of our sister Republic.—N. Y. Cor. Bulletin.

Miss Margaret Douglas, the Australian pedestrian, has completed the task of walking one thousand miles in one thousand hours at the American Opera House, at Liverpool. Each successive mile has been witnessed by persons who have attested its fair performance. During her last mile, which she walked in the presence of seven hundred persons, she several times stopped to dance; and at the close she declared she could have walked two hundred miles more, and would be willing to undertake fourteen hundred.

The news of the capture of Fort Fisher was immediately telegraphed by some rebel sympathisers to their friends in Halifax, and the merchants there at once chartered the fastest steamer in port to carry the news to Bermuda, Nassau and [illegible] and generally to keep the blockade runners out of the trap.

A New England soldier, who has served three years creditably and received three wounds, has been sent to Washington from camp and made to exchange an infantry uniform for a bonnet, dress and hoops—the appropriate garb of her sex, which she had kept concealed from her colleagues.

MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 3, 1[illegible]

The Oregon Military School.

It may be news to some of our readers that Oregon has a Military School at all; [illegible] aware of the fact [illegible] perhaps, having [illegible] in which we would now seek to present [illegible]. During the existence of this war, we, as a nation, have learned to appreciate the value of a military education for army officers. West Point, before the war was reviled and ridiculed, and among the mass of the people the idea, more or less, prevailed that it was becoming an aristocratic hot-bed, where the young gentlemen possessed of sire who wielded some little political influence were pampered and educated at the expense of the Government. Such was indeed, to some extent, the case, as preferment to West Point was made perhaps as often the bribe to secure influence, as the reward of merit, or the appreciation of ability. But with all its drawbacks of that kind, the National Academy has most certainly formed the mind of many young men for a career of arms and laid the foundation, by early development, of an after life, where they assumed their places at the head of marching columns and found that the teachings of the national school had moulded and fitted them to become the military chieftains of their time.

Adapting the National lesson to our home experience, we can see, that as West Point fits the youth to marshal armies in the field, and as the [illegible] in the ranks fits the recruit to become the veteran, so experience is requisite to prepare the youth and manhood of our own State to meet a possible emergency, and repel invasion at home. The prospect of a foreign war is apparent to all, and should it come, the exposed frontier upon the Northwest Pacific invites attack with more assurance of success than does any other spot of American soil. To follow the old maxim that it is wise "in time of peace to prepare for war," this we are already doing under the call of the General Government, for Oregon can look with pride upon the 1,000 young men that have responded to the call, and enrolled themselves in the army of the Union. Taken as a body they are as fine a set of young men as have volunteered from any State. They represent the solid class, the farming community, and are in many cases the sons of influential citizens. Their officers too, have been chosen with care, and have set out with a determination to influence for good the minds of those under their command. It is to be hoped that their efforts will meet with success, and that the three years of their service, may afford useful experience.

Several companies have organized by their own free will, with the promise of abstinence from liquors during the term of enlistment. This shows the sound material that is found in the companies. Let these young men live up to their intentions, and as some did in the 1st Oregon Cavalry, devote attention to their studies, and they will find the three years glide by, leaving them better prepared to meet life than when they entered the service. To such, the prospect remains, that in the future should soldiers be needed, their experience will qualify them for commissions and enable them to ask for them; or, to make the application as we intend it, the present service may answer as a military school to train the youth of Oregon and qualify them to serve the State in a higher capacity should future emergency demand it. At least, by attention and study, they may prepare for usefulness, and by varied experience learn something of the world to their good. Should they, as is their privilege, avoid the evils that are found so often in camps, they can, under the influence of such officers as have been chosen for them, make the soldier's life a school of instruction of great value to themselves and to the State.

SOUTH EASTERN OREGON. — There is a large territory that remains virtually unknown in the south-eastern part of Oregon. Much of it is doubtless desert on or near the Owyhee, and part of it is capable of cultivation and improvement, and no doubt will ultimately contain a great population, for it is capable of supporting large grazing interests, and its rich valleys afford many homes for agriculture. No accurate survey has been made to show exactly where the eastern boundary line runs, though any person with good ideas of the points of the compass, traveling from the mouth of the Owyhee, which is the boundary point east, can judge by the course pursued in traveling seventy-five miles to Ruby City, that he is not more than from ten to twenty [illegible] Idaho Territory when there, as the road [illegible] to the south, a little east. [illegible] Oregon only misses the rich leads on Jordan creek by a trifle, while Pleasant valley, down Jordan creek, which runs west, is most or part of it in Oregon. This Pleasant valley is destined to become an important spot. The soil is rich and fertile, the winter snow scarce touches it, when on the mountains two miles distant it lies very deep.

This valley will be found in Oregon, and it is the general opinion at the towns on Jordan Creek, that those mines will depend on Pleasant Valley for their principal supplies of vegetables and farm products. The valley is some twelve miles long, on the arable land, lies from one to two miles in width, making one of the most valuable agricultural tracts on the Owyhee. All this valley is probably claimed at the present time. Much of it was occupied and improved last summer, and many acres will be cultivated to supply the towns on Jordan Creek the present summer.

This valley has already been the scene of several Indian raids, and quite a number of white men have therein been murdered and much stock run off. The military should fully understand the necessity of guarding this point. A military post should be established there, as that is the point from which that whole region can be protected.

There is also a large agricultural country [illegible] to be of much greater extent, on the head waters of the Malheur river, some seventy five miles northwest of this point, and of course, also in Oregon. This whole country needs to be protected and opened to prospectors, and [illegible] add its tribute to the enterprise of our people.

LATTER VINDICATED. — Boutwell of Massachusetts successfully disproved all the charges made against General Butler by Brooks. Brooks said that fifty thousand dollars taken from the New Orleans bankers had been expended for the Government. The evidence brought to light by Boutwell was overwhelming to Brooks and a [illegible] vindication of General Butler.

GENERAL SHERMAN OF IRISH EXTRACTION. — The San Francisco Flag, in giving the parentage of Sherman, claims that his parents came originally from the [illegible] of Ireland, which makes him of wholly Irish blood, if the Flag is correct.

THE STEAMER. — The Agents advertise that the steamship will sail this evening at four o'clock for San Francisco, only by way of Victoria.

MANUFACTURE OF BLANK BOOKS.—The new and extensive Book Binding establishment of our friend Wm. Siebert, in the ... [illegible] ... block, is really one of the best institutions of the city. He has lately done a fine job of Blank Book work for Linn county, consisting of five records, &c., ordered by Charles Barrett, and is now completing thirty large books for ... [illegible] ... Boise county, ordered by J. M. Murphy, Esq., of Idaho City. Siebert has some new and splendid machinery for the purpose of making blank books, a first-class ruling machine and one of ... [illegible] ... patent paging machines, being the embodiment of all that is attractive in that line of business. This paging machine is a ... [illegible] ... worthy a description, or a visit from the curious. It works similar to a printing press, having ... [illegible] ... rollers for inking the type, and ... [illegible] ... ink table for its ... distribution. It will number the pages of a book ... [illegible] ... The figures are set on rollers, made of the ... brass, and are used continuously, or alternately, by merely changing a screw, and will work ... [illegible] ... pressions per hour. The paging machine is the first printing press we ever remember having seen that "sets" its own type as it goes along.

PREPARE FOR EMERGENCIES.—The first vessels of the sailing kind that have reached our wharves since the loss of the Industry, arrived on Saturday evening. Capt. Wass is quite certain that if a boat had been sent to the wreck early on Tuesday following, all could have been saved. But now, that they are lost, that a noble hearted Captain has perished on his ship, with the passengers who looked to him for protection, and that too within a short distance of the main land, the talk and acts of individuals should be to the end that they prevent like calamities in future. Life in this world cannot be restored to the unfortunate ones who so perished, but to save others who may be similarly situated, measures must be adopted. The use of mortars, with eyed shot, similar to the ones so common on the coast of England, would be of the most efficient service in getting a line to a vessel stranded on the sands at the mouth of the Columbia. Then persons would save themselves very readily, with a life car, or even a basket, tub, or chair. The need of surf-boats is also apparent, from this calamitous event, and as nothing ever has been, we hope something may be done for the sake of humanity, and the good name of our people.

DARING, BUT UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT AT BURGLARY.—Some time during Saturday night, or early Sunday morning, the store of E. J. Northrup, hardware dealer, was entered by burglars, who effected an entrance through the side door on Yamhill street. The iron doors, by reason of a defect in the lock, were not fastened and entrance was easily effected through the sash doors inside. After getting in, they turned their attention to the safe, (one of Lillie's fire and burglar proof) and unscrewed the dial knob and the ... in which it revolves, but finding they were no better off than before, they gave up that job and cleaned the counter drawer of its contents, (some $21 50) and left. Before they left, they pasted a five cent Revenue Stamp on the safe, probably to certify by it, the legality of the transaction.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES.—Yesterday Rev. Mr. Atkinson delivered his last sermon previous to his departure for the East, at the Congregational Church in this city, and made it the occasion for one of his best efforts. The church was filled as full as it could be comfortably, and the able discourse was listened to with the most marked attention. At the conclusion of his remarks the Choir sang a piece selected especially for the time,—the parting—and afterwards sang, the congregation joining, one of the favorite hymns of Dr. Dwight's, "All hail the power of Jesus' name." One more was added to the list of members on profession of his faith, and the regular communion ended the services.

THE GOODS OF THE WRECK.—Mr. Bengtson, who has been visiting the points about Cape Hancock and Shoalwater Bay, has furnished a list of a few of those who have goods ashore to the agents of the vessel. A large amount of various sorts of merchandise is undoubtedly secreted, and will never be got sight of—other lots can be secured, and those of any value will be saved but only a very slight portion in all; will most likely be worth the trouble.

A VERY POOR MEMORY.—Charley Starr was arraigned in the Recorder's Court on Saturday, for knocking a Chinaman down, on the corner of First and Alder streets the evening before. There was a Confederate arrested with him, and the two, displayed a very poor recollection of things. Charley could not remember having been on the street that night, nor could he recollect having, a few moments previous, told the Prosecuting Attorney that he was there, but that it was not him who did the "striking."

RECORDER'S COURT.—In Recorder's Court on Saturday the summary of cases, and the result of their trial stood as follows: For drunken and disorderly conduct seven, two committed to jail for an aggregate of six days; one paid a fine of $30; one paid $25; one paid $20; one paid $15; one paid a forfeit of his bonds for appearance, by leaving. Another defendant, in a matter in which the State was plaintiff also left, forfeiting his bonds.

CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—The cause and condition of the Christian Commission was presented to a full house at the Union meeting at the Presbyterian Church last evening, by Mr. Atkinson, and at the close of the services a collection was taken up in aid of the fund, netting about $1.17... in currency.

LUMBER FROM THE CASCADES.—The steamer Idaho on Sunday last brought a cargo of lumber from the Cascades to this city. "Coming events cast their shadows before," and soon we may see large amounts of freight coming down the Columbia as well as going up.

A CHICKEN WITH THREE LEGS.—Mr. Mc... of this city has shown us a monstrosity in the shape of a chicken with three legs, a portion of two bodies, one head, and other formalities of a common hen.

A SHELL "WHAT-NOT."—Mr. Stannard, Chief officer of the bark Jennette, has brought to this city an elegant "what-not," ornamented with shells, which he proposes to dispose of while in port.

STEAMER RIVAL.—Hereafter there will only be a morning boat to Oregon City. The Rival has laid up for the season but the ... will make her trips as usual.

Your Mission.

The following sweet little poem was sung at the third grand anniversary of the U. S. Christian Commission held in the Hall of the House of Representatives, Washington City, January 29th and was repeated at the special request of the President:

If you cannot on the ocean
Sail among the swiftest fleet,
Rocking on the highest billows,
Laughing at the storms you meet,
You can stand among the sailors,
Anchored yet within the bay,
You can lend a hand to help them,
As they launch their boats away.

If you are too weak to journey
Up the mountain steep and high,
You can stand within the valley,
While the multitudes go by;
You can chant in happy measure,
As they slowly pass along;
Though they may forget the singer,
They will not forget the song.

If you have not gold and silver
Ever ready to command;
If you cannot toward the needy
Reach an ever open hand;
You can visit the afflicted,
O'er the erring you can weep;
You can be a true disciple,
Sitting at the Saviour's feet.

If you cannot in the conflict
Prove yourself a soldier true,
If, where fire and smoke are thickest,
There's no work for you to do;
When the battle-field is silent,
You can go with careful tread;
You can bear away the wounded,
You can cover up the dead.

Do not then stand idly waiting
For some greater work to do;
Fortune is a lazy goddess,
She will never come to you.
Go and toil in any vineyard,
Do not fear to do or dare;
If you want a field of labor,
You can find it anywhere.

A QUEER BIRD.—The Flag tells the following good thing of an old mountaineer, late a looker-on, and at the same time the observed of all observers in the streets of San Francisco:

"It's the What is it," we heard from several voices. We took a nearer view, and there, in the center of a dense mass of humanity, some of whom were as well worth staring at as the object of their curiosity, stood or rather leaned, a bluff, well-made, good-humored looking fellow, who was in all respects a counterpart of Cooper's Leatherstocking hero. He was clad in a suit of skins from head to foot, and as he picked his teeth with his huge clasp-knife, propping himself cross-legged against the door post, he looked quietly round upon the crowd as any spectator would upon some show that had been provided for his entertainment. The old boy had just arrived from a protracted journey in the wilderness of the far interior, and seemed to regard the crowd with as much curiosity as they bestowed upon him. He had been in all the hard fights from the memorable siege of the settlements at Aurora down to the King Woodsey fight in Arizona, wasn't afeard of anything in the shape of wildcat or Injen, as he expressed it. He was easily recognizable for one of that hardy, peril-scorning class who first opened the way to the realms of gold and silver. In the midst of this interchange of scrutinies he was joined by a comrade. "Well, what do you think of 'em, Billy, now you've seen 'em?" he was asked. "Ain't no great shakes," replied Billy, taking an enormous quid of tobacco, "jes' like the whole loafer crowd up in the mines—hasn't got four bits 'atween 'em, I bet. I've seen enough o' ye. Go 'long!" "Excuse them, Billy; they don't know any better. Will you drink?" "I reckon!" In a moment more Leatherstocking had vanished and the throng dispersed—except one old gentleman who stopped to look for his pocket-book.

PETROLEUM MILLIONAIRE.—A somewhat romantic heir of one of the fortunes of the oil region, whose income is several thousand a day concluded to see the wonders of the East. So putting a few necessaries into a common traveling bag he set off for Philadelphia. Stopping at the Girard and asking for a good room, the landlord said:

"You can have a room, but we shall be obliged to demand pay in advance."

"Well sir, I think I cannot only pay for my room," replied Petroleum, "but buy out your entire hotel. What's your price?" So saying he posted off elsewhere.

After driving and luxuriating to his heart's content in Philadelphia and making a present of a fine span of horses to a livery-man who had treated him well, he proceeded to New York.

One of his first calls there was on Ball & Black.

"Have you any diamond rings?"

"Yes," said the clerk, and showed him one of two hundred dollars value.

"Pretty," said Petroleum; "havn't you any finer?"

"Yes—here's one at five hundred dollars."

"Oh!" said Petroleum, "that's brilliant—that suits better. I like that. But ain't there anything more stylish yet?"

"The clerk, dumfounded, displayed the six thousand dollar diamond ring, the most valuable in the store; and his customer, exhibiting great wonder and joy in surveying it, asked:

"Now han't you nothing higher, better?"

"No," said the clerk; "that's the best in the country," never dreaming the fellow could buy it.

"Well," said Petroleum, "I'll take that," and forked over the six thousand dollars.—Am. to Monthly.

CORNELIUS O'DOWD ON AMERICANS.—There is a rough, unvarnished Yankee that I like much. I like his self-reliance, his vigor, his daring earnestness, and I don't dislike his intense acuteness, and I forgive his ill-humor with England. It is your traveled Philadelphian, your literary gentleman from Boston, or your almighty swaggerer, from Broadway, that I cannot stomach. This beringed and gold-chained masticator is positively odious to me. His imitation of the usages of society is at once so close and remote, as to afford a cruel mockery of our actual civilization; and I long to read my Darwin backwards, and fancy the time when he will go back to his native woods and prairies, and be as wildly fantastic and barbarous as nature intended him. These people are not the nation; they are not even like it. They are the offshoots of an over wealthy and purse-proud society, who, not daring to exhibit their impertinences where they are known, come over to Europe to display themselves in all the extravagances of a mistaken culture. "When a good American dies he goes to Paris," it is said; and I am almost attempted to wish that he would wait for his immortality on his own side of the Atlantic. Such people have helped to make the Continent dear, and done very little to make it pleasanter.—Blackwood's Magazine.

NAPOLEON AND THE MUSICAL CLOCK.—On one of the nights that Napoleon spent at Charlotteburg, during his campaign in Germany, his slumbers were disturbed. In Frederick William's dining-room, close to the conqueror's bed-chamber there stood a large musical clock, which admirably imitated a band of trumpets. At midnight the row began; trumpets echoed through the palace; the servants, the Adjutants, Napoleon himself, leaped out of bed, and every one believed it a surprise. But soon everything was quiet again, and no one could make out where the trumpeters were. Sentinels were posted, a part of the Adjutants remained up, and at one o'clock there was the same row again, this time in one of the rooms. They rushed in, and the musical clock was detected before the time was ended. Napoleon the Great, the destroyer of the Prussian monarchy, sleeping in the palace of the Queen of Prussia, and frightened by a musical clock.

SOCIAL AMENITIES OF THE PICKET LINE.—The following is a copy of a letter thrown over to our men on picket at the front:

"Gentlemen: There is one thing you have got and I want, that is a Masonic breastpin. You will know me by having a red ribbon tied to my gun. I have not got any [illegible] with me, but I will be on picket to-morrow night and will have some. You must not think hard of us not answering when you speak. Our officers are very strict on us. I wish the privates on both sides would come to some conclusion and stop this war. I think we could make peace right off. Don't gather around those front [illegible] in squads. The officers order us to fire but we don't. All the shooting done in the day time is done by them. If you throw anything over be sure and throw it as far as you can."

They tell a pretty good story of Gen. Early in Richmond. It is well known that his forces, in flying from Fisher's Hill before Sheridan, left a considerable quantity of provisions there. Two or three days afterwards, being called on to march without having eaten for some time, they called out, as he was passing in front, "Rations! rations! rations!" "Fisher's Hill!" fiercely replied Gen. Lee's "bad old man!"

SERVED HER RIGHT.—A Savannah belle stepped off the sidewalk the other day, with a pouting expression, to avoid walking under an American flag which hung in front of an officer's headquarters. Gen. Geary, military commandant of the city, immediately gave order, to have her promenade back and forth under the hateful symbol for an hour, as a warning for similar offenders.

Gentlemen: From representations made by Mr. Lillie, I was induced to purchase of him one of his

So Called "Fire Proof Safes."

On the 18th of February last, a fire occurred in our town which destroyed a number of buildings, and ours with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all to the safe. After the fire the so called "safe" was taken from the ruins, and on opening it we found that Everything had been Destroyed.

We send you the safe with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one of them is legible or strong enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we noticed McKenzie & Hardy just opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make) and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material of Messrs. McK. & H.'s cellar—such as lard, pork, etc., their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the clothing business and had but little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes here subjected to the same fire [illegible] however, no better than ours.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,
(Signed) GEO. L. CHESBORO & CO.

TILTON & M'FARLAND'S

SAFE,

The Only Protection

Against Fire and Burglars.

For the last Fifteen Years

This Safe has been well known in California and the Eastern States. They have resisted all the fires on the Pacific Coast, and we can point with satisfaction to the record that out of one of our Safes by means of Burglars. Their fire and burglar proof qualities are so well known that they need no further recommendation.

No Man ever Lost a Dollar

A good assortment of Tilton & McFarland's Fire and Burglar Proof Safes to be had at 318 Battery Street, San Francisco.

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,
Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,
GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above-mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLEUR ALBUS,

And in every disease in any way connected with the disorder or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once restored, revivified and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man, he stands erect, he moves with a firm step, his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom or an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor.—The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER, INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, AND
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRANGUARY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL URINATING,
CALCULUS, GRAVEL,
BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give praise to

CONSTITUTION WATER.

Males or Females,

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back, and through your hips? CONSTITUTION WATER will relieve you like magic.

ALLEN'S

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing
CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,
Asthma, Croup,
Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.
